

DANIEL ALAN DAY

Business Owner | Landscape Architect
www.linkedin.com/company/browning-day

1939

Born to Daniel Day and Zaida Blackwell Day in Kokomo, IN.

1963

Earns a Bachelor of Fine Arts in landscape architecture from the University of Illinois.

1967

Is the co-founder of Browning Day in Indianapolis and is a landscape architect for the business until 1992.

1975

Receives the Council of the Sagamore's of the Wabash, the state's highest award, for the design of the World War Memorial Plaza in Indianapolis.

1992

Commences his retirement.

1939

1963

1967

1975

1992

2017

2021

2021

2021

2017

Marries Ronald Blakey.

2021

Reflects on transforming Monument Circle, designing a garden for Eli Lilly headquarters and lowering a canal to allow for sidewalks and urban housing.

2021

Reflects on his years serving on the Indianapolis Opera Board.

2021

Reflects on his many years serving on the International Violin Competition of Indianapolis Board.

A Timeline of Professional Milestones