

CHARLES C. GORNICK JR., MD

Cardiac Electrophysiologist

1951

Born on September 21 to Charles C. and Pauline Rose.

1977

Obtains a Doctor of Medicine from the University of Minnesota Medical School.

1980

Becomes board-certified by the American Board of Internal Medicine.

1983

Becomes board-certified in cardiovascular disease.

1995

Is selected as president of the Minnesota affiliate of the American Heart Association.

1951

1977

1980

1983

1995

2002

2010

2010

2021

2021

2002

Becomes certified in clinical cardiac electrophysiology.

2010

Teaches as an associate professor of medicine within the Cardiovascular Division at the University of Minnesota and continues in the role.

2010

Is a researcher with the Minnesota Heart Institute Foundation and continues in the role.

2021

Contributes to contribute as a fellow of the American College of Cardiology, Heart Rhythm Society and American Medical Association.

2021

Maintains membership with the American Heart Association.

A Timeline of Professional Milestones