

Ms. Neville is born in Portsmouth, New Hampshire to Edward Joseph and Margaret Frances Neville.

Ms. Neville receives a Bachelor of Science in mathematics from Boston College.

Ms. Neville receives a Master of Arts in mathematics from Boston College.

Ms. Neville becomes a science programmer for RCA in Burlington, Massachusetts.

Ms. Neville becomes a senior operations research analyst for System Development Corporation in Lexington, Massachusetts.

1937

1959

1961

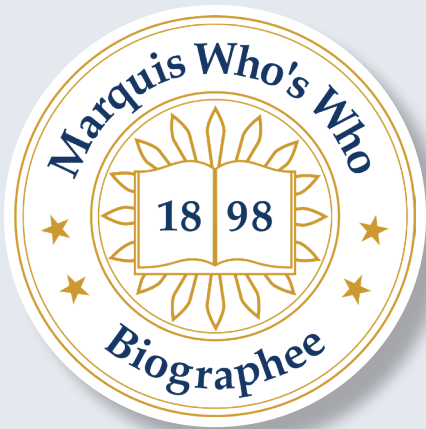

1961

1962

Nancy Marie Neville

Aerospace Engineer

A timeline of professional milestones

1966

1969

1969

1973

1975

Ms. Neville becomes a staff member in the Instrumentation Laboratory at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Ms. Neville receives a Certificate of Commendation from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Ms. Neville receives the Apollo Achievement Award from NASA.

Ms. Neville becomes a senior staff member of Charles Stark Draper Laboratory, Inc. in Cambridge, Massachusetts.

Ms. Neville works at the Charles Stark Draper Laboratory, Inc. on close loop simulations for weather satellite networks for 10 years on a U.S. Air Force project.