MARQUIS W10SW10®

ANTONY OLDKNOW, PHD

English Educator | Writer | Publisher | Visual Artist

1939 Born to William Fleming and Gertrude Ada (Webster) G. in Peterborough, England, United Kingdom.	Earns a Bachelor of Arts in English and with minors in history and Italian, with honors, from the University of Leeds in England.	1961 Is certified to teach English and history for grades K-12 by the United Kingdom Ministry of Education.	1963 Earns a Master of Education from the University of Leeds		1966 Came to the United States and was naturalized as a citizen in 1995.	1966 Works as a general editor and publisher for The Scopcraeft Press, Portales, and continues in this role.	1968 Takes graduate courses in linguistics and computer pro- gramming at the Uni- versity of Chicago.	Rod of the Lord."	1972 Earns the Governor of North Dakota's Citatio as North Dakota Distinguished Writer.
1939	1961	1961	1963	1964	1966	1966	1968	1971	1972
1976	1980	1983	1984	1987	1991	1996	2012	2016	2017
Is an instructor of English at the University of the North Dakota and then at the University of Wisconsin, Stevens Point	1980 Works as an academic coordinator at the University of Wisconsin, Stevens Point.	1983 Earns a Doctor of Philosophy in English from the University of North Dakota.	the University	Is an assistant professor of English at Eastern New Mexico University through 1990 and then as an associate professor through 1994.	Receives the President's Award for Service from Eastern New Mexico University.	1996 Teaches as a professor of English at Eastern New Mexico University through 2012.	Is named an emeritus professor by Eastern New Mexico University.	2016 Publishes the short story collection "Dr. Upex and the Great God Ing-Fifteen Weird Jnexpected Stories."	2017 Is named Distinguished Professor Emeritus of English by Eastern New Mexico University.

A Timeline of Professional Milestones